

EJustice Solutions Announces New Release of its Online RMS

Ann Arbor, MI, September 7, 2011 – Today EJustice Solutions announced the latest release of their online hosted Law Enforcement Records Management System which is operational from any device that can access the Internet. This release introduces interactive charting capabilities and enhanced incident mapping features as well as added functionality and enhanced usability throughout the application.

The interactive charts give supervisory and command personnel the ability to get a quick snapshot of activity including offenses, citations and officers' logs. They also provide summary trends and a snapshot of Agency activity for tracking and follow-up. This capability allows supervisors to direct their time and efforts on those areas needing immediate attention. The embedded drill-down capabilities from the charts provide for guided discovery of the underlying detail data in the Online RMS.

The incident mapping features leverage the Google maps functionality and allow the agency to see a visual representation of offenses (layered as needed) across specified geographic areas. With this new capability agencies are able to identify crime "hot spots" and adjust investigative efforts or patrol activities accordingly.

Agency created narrative reporting templates have been added to the Incident Reporting module. This feature allows the agency to define (by offense type) the exact information to be captured and documented as well as the logical organization of that information in the narrative of the incident report. This helps ensure that reporting is both complete and entered uniformly, by each officer.

This release also provides enhancements for the Incident Reporting module including increased redaction options, printing enhancements, navigation improvements and improved communication flags. The Calls for Service module and Evidence handling modules have also been enhanced with numerous new features which significantly expand the user options.
